

UTSA

UTSA Educational Research Training Program: P-20 Pipeline Issues

Important Dates

Application Deadline
August 15, 2019

Program Dates
September 2019 - June 2020

The Child and Adolescent Policy Research Institute is seeking 12 juniors, especially those from underrepresented backgrounds, to participate in the UTSA Educational Research Training Program: P-20 Pipeline Issues. The students will receive a theoretically grounded set of research experiences and mentoring support designed to build upon their strengths and prepare them for admission and success in graduate education programs.

Requirements

Applicants Must:

- Have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher (on a 4.0 scale)
- Be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Be a junior enrolled part-time or full-time in a UTSA bachelor's program
 - ✓ Have completed between 60 to 90 credit hours
 - ✓ Be enrolled at UTSA or transferring from one of the Alamo Colleges into UTSA
- Demonstrate potential and expressed interest in pursuing a graduate program to conduct education research in any discipline
- If you are a financial aid recipient, please keep in mind that your financial aid may be adjusted if you are selected to receive the fellowship.

Benefits

Fellows Will:

- Have access to weekly informal seminars
- Conduct research apprenticeships
- Participate in summer institutes that will help enhance oral and written communication skills, develop research skills and prepare for graduate school
- Attend a 1-week summer workshop at Stanford University and a 1-week workshop at UTSA
- Have an opportunity to publish research results and attend conference presentations with UTSA faculty and mentors
- Receive a monthly stipend

How to Apply

For more information please email:

Sophia.Ortiz@utsa.edu or call

210-458-2692

Twitter: @UTSACAPRI

Facebook: UTSA Child & Adolescent
Policy Research Institute

